DEATHS GROW IN EPIDEMIC OF INFLUENZA

More Than 1,200 Die From Malady and Pneumonia—
160,000 New Cases.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The influenza epidemic is becoming wider in its national sweep and more serious as it advances.

This was revealed today by a study of figures on cases and fatalities for 65 principal cities from Nov. 3, when the epidemic started, until Dec. 29, the latest date upon which detailed statistics are available at the census bureau.

Deaths in 65 large cities from flu and pneumonia in that period numbered 12,428, of which 2,160 were attributed directly to the flu. Admittedly, however, in many cases it is difficult to tell where influenza stops and pneumonia begins.

DEATHS INCREASE
The curve of deaths has been moving gradually upward for the country as a whole, the total fatalities for the last week for which reports have been received having been 4,927 as compared to 628 for the week of Nov. 3.

Public health officials said that the reports indicated that the epidemic is of far less virulent form than in 1918, although they admitted that it is becoming more serious, at least in the big cities.

Revised figures for forty states for the 29 week gave 160,000 new cases of flu reported, a decrease of 90,000 from the week before. Forty-one states but Virginia had 40,000 new cases the week of Dec. 22, made no report for the week.

Preparations were started today for the national influenza conference to be held under the auspices of the public health service January 10. Eighty-five invitations to state and municipal health officers and medical scientists were issued. About half that number are expected to attend.

REPORTS LACKING
An effort will be made to obtain an agreement of the best medical minds as to what information should be given the public as to prevention and treatment of flu. When compiled this will be published in pamphlet form and widely distributed through state and municipal health departments to meet possible future epidemics.

A movement will be launched at the conference to obtain more accurate reports from physicians as to influenza cases. It was hoped that states such as reportable disease, will include it in their vital statistics.

Officials pointed out that the flu statistics are highly inaccurate and of comparatively little value in tracing the course of the epidemic. Experts declared that the officially reported cases represent less than one-fifth of those actually afflicted.

WITTICH'S STORE ARTICLE'S SUBJECT

In the December issue of "The Northwestern Confectioner," a publication from Milwaukee, is a short story concerning Wittich's confectionery of Circleville. The history and wonderful reputation of this store is well known and has been for a long time, in Ohio and in recent years its fame for pure stick candy has become known all over the United States.

In "The Northwestern Confectioner" story, Wittich's is spoken of as the confectionery which was established in 1840 by G. F. Wittich. It has recently added a noonday luncheon service, specializing in home cooking. It is claimed that the Wittich establishment is the oldest in the state doing business under the same name for 88 years.

POLICE SEEKING SCHOOL VANDALS

MARTON, O., Jan. 5.—A band of vandals, believed by the police to be juveniles, is being sought here today, following raids staged upon nine local school buildings within the past two weeks. Indications show, according to the police, that the gang uses an automobile in its operations.

Damage estimated at several hundred dollars has been done. The latest buildings to be entered were the Earl-St. Silver-st. and Oakland Heights schools.

Romance Crashes

Alimony of $1,000 a month is asked of court by Mrs. Percy C. Healy (above), who is fighting annulment of her marriage to Percy C. Healy, Wall street broker. She told the judge he proposed to her during an airplane ride.

TWO TREATIES ARE EFFECTED

Pan American Delegates Will Assemble In Washington
To Sign Pact.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The Pan-American conference on conciliation and arbitration will finish its labors late today and adjourn, satisfied that it has prevented a war between Bolivia and Paraguay, and leaving as a monument two treaties which it is hoped will prevent future wars on the American continent.

In the hall of the Americas this afternoon, delegates from 20 nations, all members of the Pan-American union will affix their signatures to a treaty providing obligatory arbitration, and another for conciliation.

After four weeks of slow, painstaking work by subcommittees, final approval was given at a plenary session of the conference, with the actual signing postponed until today that the state department could have properly engrossed treaties in four languages ready to be sealed and signed by the delegates.

Today, when the delegates gather for their final ceremony, some of them will announce reservations to the arbitration treaty, designed to clarify their respective positions regarding domestic questions which are excepted from arbitration in the treaty itself.

UNION SERVICES TO START SUNDAY

On Sunday evening the first of next week's Union services will be held at the Methodist Episcopal church at 7 o'clock. The Rev. B. J. Peters and Rev. E. S. Toerner will be the speakers. Special music will be sung by the Junior choir.

Beginning with this service a union meeting will be held every night next week, ending on Sunday when the last will be held at the Presbyterian church. The weekly meetings are at 7:30 o'clock and the two Sunday services will begin at 7 o'clock.

YOUNG GIRL DIES

Funeral services for Lucille Wright, six-year-old daughter of Edward and Della Wright, who died at their home in Frankfort, Ross-co. Friday after three years' illness of tuberculosis, will be held at the A. M. E. church at Frankfort, Sunday at 2 p. m. Metzger and Fisher funeral directors, are in charge.

WOMAN, LOVER ESCAPE NOOSE ON REPRIEVE

Louisiana Governor Steps Into Case When Supreme Court
Gets Into Tangle.

FRANKLIN, La., Jan. 5.—"We won't hang them today." With these words Sheriff Charles Pecot today delayed the execution of Mrs. Ada Bonner LeBoeuf and her sweetheart, Dr. T. E. Dreher, which was to take place at noon. The pair was convicted of conspiracy in the murder of the woman's husband.

The last minute postponement of the hanging came following an early morning telephone call to the sheriff from Huey P. Long, who, according to Pecot, said that he was going to grant a reprieve and instructed the sheriff to delay the execution until further notice.

CLIMAX OF CASE
This came as the climax of the most dramatic episode in Louisiana criminal history, one in which lawyers sped about the state frantically seeking a last-minute delay and in which high state officials and jurists violently disagreed.

The governor's dramatic intervention relieved Sheriff Pecot of the responsibility of choosing between the dictates of Chief Justice O'Neill of the Louisiana supreme court and those of four associate justices.

Following a hearing at New Orleans last night, Justice O'Neill instructed the sheriff to delay the hanging. His four associates, dissenting, gave the local official a conflicting order to proceed with the execution.

GOVERNOR'S INTERVENTION
Sheriff Pecot first issued a statement saying the couple would not hang, but later he had not decided what he would do. Governor Long then came to his assistance and Pecot issued the final statement to the effect that there would be no hanging.

The supreme court disagreement came on the question of whether that body should stay the execution until it had reviewed the reason why Judge Simon of Franklin had refused to appoint a lunacy commission to decide upon the sanity of the man and woman who were sentenced to die for the murder of the woman's husband, James L. LeBoeuf, at Morgan City near here on July 1, 1927.

FENN BILL IN FOR HOT FIGHT

Proposal To Reapportion Congressional Representatives
Stirs House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Lines were drawn in the house today for its hardest-fought legislative battle of the present session, over the Fenn bill for a new division of members among the 48 states of the nation to meet shifts in population.

A close vote was predicted by both backers and opponents of the measure which, house leaders announced will be brought out on the floor on Jan. 10.

With some members from agricultural states raising the cry that a new apportionment means city domination of congress, advocates of the bill countered with the declaration that congress has disenfranchised more than 5,000,000 people by refusing to obey the plain mandate of the constitution.

Rep. Clarence McLeod (R.) of Michigan who led the fight in the census committee for the Fenn bill, declared the measure would pass by a close margin.

"Under the constitution the membership of the house is directed to be reapportioned after every census to meet changing population," he said. "No reapportionment has been made since 1911."

"The Fenn bill provides that this reapportionment shall now be made on the 1920 census. An examination of population records shows that more than 5,000,000 people now have no representation in congress."

Hen Undergoes Operation; Now Again on Job

"Sassy Sue" Recovers From
Caesarian and Lays Egg
Daily.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 5.—"Sassy Sue," prize hen of Herbert Burns, is back on the job of an "egg a day" after undergoing a "major operation" recently.

Last July "Sassy Sue" suddenly stopped contributing a daily "egg" for her master's breakfast of "ham and eggs" for which she had become noted.

A poultry specialist at the University of Tennessee veterinary school was called into consultation. "Sassy Sue" hadn't laid an egg in more than a week, and she appeared to be a very sick hen.

"There's just one chance of saving her," the specialist told Burns, "an operation." It sounded serious but Burns consented and "Sassy Sue" underwent the surgery.

Eight fully developed eggs—four with hard shells and four with soft shells—were removed. "Sassy Sue" was neatly hemstitched and put to bed. For days she hovered between life and death.

"Sassy" lived, but weeks went by and she showed no indication of again resuming her old occupation of an egg a day. Then one morning recently she loudly announced she was back on the job.

DEATH TAKES TWO CHILDREN

Commercial Point Homes Are Saddened By Visit of Grim Reaper.

Two Commercial Point homes were saddened Thursday and Friday by the deaths of two baby girls, each seven months old.

Funeral services for Leota May Brake, seven-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Brake of Commercial Point, who died Thursday at her home, will be held Sunday at 10:30 a. m. at the residence. Burial will be in the Commercial Point cemetery by A. J. Holt.

Mary L. Hinton, seven-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myrtle Hinton, of Commercial Point, died at her home Friday.

The child is survived by a sister, Helen, a brother, Donald, and her grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. George Hinton and Mr. and Mrs. Pershing.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the residence. Burial will be in the Darbyville cemetery by A. J. Holt of Commercial Point.

HOOVER NEARS JOURNEY'S END

President-elect Planning Tour of West Indies Before Inauguration.

ABOARD U. S. S. UTAH (Via Arlington, Va., Radio Station) Jan. 5.—Within 24 hours of the end of his long Latin-American tour, President-elect Hoover today said good-bye to the many officers and seamen aboard the battleship Utah with whom he had become acquainted on the journey northward from Montevideo, Uruguay.

Despite heavy seas and rain squalls throughout the day and night yesterday, the Utah maintained its usual speed and was still slightly ahead of its schedule this morning. It is now almost certain that the ship will dock at Old Point Comfort, Va., before eight o'clock tomorrow morning.

Although the Utah entered the gulf stream today the cold temperature of the mainland was sufficiently felt to make overcoats necessary. This morning all of the officers and crew appeared in their blue winter uniforms.

Since leaving Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, the day before Christmas, both Mr. and Mrs. Hoover have enjoyed almost continuous leisure and are now in the best possible physical condition.

If he can conclude his business in Washington in time, Mr. Hoover, it is expected, will attempt to arrange a tour of the West Indies before his inauguration.

NORTHCOTT IS NOW WORRIED

Prospect of Death Penalty
Alarms Suspect in Murder Farm Case.

RIVERSIDE, Calif., Jan. 5.—For the first time since the beginning of his trial for the purported murder of four youths on his chicken ranch near here, Gordon Northcott today appeared to be concerned regarding his ultimate fate.

The oft repeated sentence, "Do you object to the death penalty?" asked by Deputy District Attorney Earl Redwine of prospective jurors has had its effect on Northcott.

With this question continually ringing in his ears, Northcott has stopped gazing calmly about the courtroom and has at last evidently realized that he is battling for his life.

So far no women have been in the jury panel. His attorney now demands that the panel of 30 talesmen to report Monday shall include women. Whether or not his demand will be met has not yet been decided.

Twelve men have been temporarily seated in the jury box, but both defense and prosecution still have numerous peremptory challenges to exercise.

CHILDREN ARE ILL

Katherine Thompson aged six, and Leroy Thompson aged eight are ill at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thompson of Pickaway-twp with whooping cough.

Many Prisoners Incarcerated In Pickaway's Jail

Sheriff Davis Has 380 Boarders During 1928, Annual Report Reveals.

Sheriff Frank Davis was active last year in scooping up law breakers.

During 1928, 380 persons at different times made their home in the county jail. This does not include the number of persons arrested on minor charges, taken before a justice of peace, who paid their fines and were released. In 1927 the sheriff's department arrested 293 persons and probably about half as many on minor charges who never had their names on the jail record.

During the year 1928 the cars used by the sheriff's department traveled about 60,000 miles. This does not include the number of bus trips and train trips made by the attaches at the office.

Sheriff Davis starts on his second term as sheriff of Pickaway-co. on Jan. 7. The force will remain the same. The sheriff will have as his deputies, John Ward, Carl Porter and Miller Fissell.

PLAN SPECIAL TEST OF COWS

Emergency Tuberculin Examinations Considered For Herds In County.

About 70 patrons of the Pickaway Dairy Co., gathered at the farm bureau office Friday afternoon to discuss an emergency tuberculin test for cattle in this vicinity.

Robert Wiley explained to the persons attending the meeting the necessity of having an emergency test and H. S. Lewis discussed the testing and the means of compensation in case of reactors.

According to information learned at the farm bureau office, many cities to whom dairy products are being sent from this vicinity have stated that in the spring they will not purchase any milk except that which is from tested cattle.

In view of this fact it will probably be necessary for the patrons of the dairy company to have an emergency test before the regular county wide test is made.

PNEUMONIA ENDS IN BOY'S DEATH

John E. Deere, 68 farmer, died at his home in Washington-twp at 1 a. m. Saturday after four days' illness of pneumonia.

He was born in Greenup, Ky., on Jan. 1, 1861 and was the son of James and Mary Deere. He came to this county 25 years ago.

His wife who was Miss Julia Arden died March 17, 1924.

Survivors are three daughters, Mrs. George Myers and Mrs. Van Smith, Circleville, and Mrs. Anna Clark, Greenup, Ky.

PLUNGES TO QUICK DEATH

Rubber Magnate Falls From
Window After Return From
Night Club Tour.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—A few moments after bidding good night to the young woman with whom he had been going the round of the night clubs, Horace L. Williamson, 65, millionaire vice president of the United States Rubber Co. and Colonel on the staff of the governor of Kentucky, plunged to his death early today from a tenth-story window of the Congress apartments.

His body, clad in evening clothes, was found in the rear courtyard by John Nugent, superintendent of the exclusive dwelling.

After detectives questioned Williamson's companion, Miss Fru Nunnally, the tragedy was recorded as accidental.

Miss Nunnally, a pretty brunette, told the detective after overcoming her first hysteria:

"The first I learned of Mr. Williamson's death was when the superintendent rushed upstairs. I had rung for an elevator to go down, having left Mr. Williamson shortly before in his apartment."

"We had been to a club after going to a movie."

"Mr. Williamson has been a friend of mine since 1926."

Police said they found an empty brandy bottle in Williamson's five-room suite, a partially filled bottle of Vermouth and several glasses. Appearances of the dining room table pointed to dinner having been served.

MINISTERS TO HOLD MEETING MONDAY

The Pickaway-co Ministers' Association will hold its regular monthly meeting on Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Presbyterian church. It is ordinarily held on Tuesday.

The afternoon program will consist of a review given by the Rev. Franklin McElfresh of Professor George A. Coe's great book, "Motives of Men."

JOHN E. DEERE IS PNEUMONIA VICTIM

John E. Deere, 68 farmer, died at his home in Washington-twp at 1 a. m. Saturday after four days' illness of pneumonia.

He was born in Greenup, Ky., on Jan. 1, 1861 and was the son of James and Mary Deere. He came to this county 25 years ago.

His wife who was Miss Julia Arden died March 17, 1924.

FOKKER PLANE AFTER RECORD OF DIRIGIBLES

Tired Aviators Stay Close To
Home Port—Equalling
Dixmude Is Goal.

(BULLETIN)
METROPOLITAN AIR-
PORT, Los Angeles, Jan. 5.—Aloft for 96 hours the record smashing army endurance Fokker monoplane "Question Mark" continued to soar over the airport at 7:55 a. m., Pacific standard time. Another mid-air refueling was to be made in a short time.

With the world's record for sustained flying by heavier than air machines already tucked in their belts, the valiant crew of five, commanded by Major Carl Spetz, kept their big craft aloft, determined not to land until the three Wright Whirlwind motors crack or they themselves collapse from sheer exhaustion.

LONG STRETCH AHEAD
Twenty-four hours of flight stretched ahead of the "Question Mark" before they will equal the most difficult record in the history of aviation, the endurance mark for lighter than air machines. This record is 112 hours of continuous flying—made in 1901 by the subsequently wrecked French dirigible, "Le Dixmude."

The great army plane is keeping in close touch with Metropolitan airport here, for from now on trouble may develop at any time which may terminate the grind.

The massive machine and its crew have been through a terrific ordeal since taking off New Year's morning, and ground officials today were speculating on how soon the breaking point of the men or the plane will be reached.

To receive official recognition the flight must end at the starting point, Metropolitan airport.

YOUTH SLAIN, CORONER SAYS

High School Student Who
Killed Bootlegger, Later
Murdered Is Belief.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 5.—Orrin H. Hoover, 17, a quiet, mannerly high school boy, shot and killed Joseph Skablanckas, 38, because he had sold the boy's father liquor—but young Hoover could not have shot himself afterwards, Coroner H. Wolfe declared today.

Myrtle Skablanckas, 35, Joe's wife, was the only other person in the house at the time of the shooting and she may have slain Orrin to avenge the death of her husband, the coroner asserted.

Although Myrtle was released last night by Sheriff Byron J. Patterson after an all day grilling, she was to be brought in again today for further questioning.

The woman told Sheriff Patterson the youth had come to her house soon after midnight yesterday and had hammered and kicked on the door until he was admitted. Then, she said, he shot Joe and turned the gun on himself.

Sheriff Patterson maintains that Myrtle Skablanckas while in a mental fury because the Lithuanian had sold the elder Hoover liquor and then had committed suicide.

Coroner Hoover, disagreeing with the suicide theory, declared that a bullet which killed the youth had penetrated his heart and lodged on the right side of the spine. It could not have been fired by a right handed person, he said, and Orrin was right handed.

RUNAWAY IS HELD

Despite heavy seas and rain-squalls throughout the day and night yesterday, the Utah maintained its usual speed and was still slightly ahead of its schedule this morning. It is now almost certain that the ship will dock at Old Point Comfort, Va., before eight o'clock tomorrow morning.

Although the Utah entered the gulf stream today the cold temperature of the mainland was sufficiently felt to make overcoats necessary. This morning all of the officers and crew appeared in their blue winter uniforms.

Since leaving Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, the day before Christmas, both Mr. and Mrs. Hoover have enjoyed almost continuous leisure and are now in the best possible physical condition.

If he can conclude his business in Washington in time, Mr. Hoover, it is expected, will attempt to arrange a tour of the West Indies before his inauguration.

NORTHCOTT IS NOW WORRIED

Prospect of Death Penalty
Alarms Suspect In Murder Farm Case.

RIVERSIDE, Calif., Jan. 5.—For the first time since the beginning of his trial for the purported murder of four youths on his chicken ranch near here, Gordon Northcott today appeared to be concerned regarding his ultimate fate.

The oft repeated sentence, "Do you object to the death penalty?" asked by Deputy District Attorney Earl Redwine of prospective jurors has had its effect on Northcott.

With this question continually ringing in his ears, Northcott has stopped gazing calmly about the courtroom and has at last evidently realized that he is battling for his life.

So far no women have been in the jury panel. His attorney now demands that the panel of 30 talemen to report Monday shall include women. Whether or not his demand will be met has not yet been decided.

Twelve men have been temporarily seated in the jury box, but both defense and prosecution still have numerous peremptory challenges to exercise.

Many Prisoners Incarcerated In Pickaway's Jail

Sheriff Davis Has 380 Boarders
During 1928, Annual Report Reveals.

Sheriff Frank Davis was active last year in scooping up law breakers.

During 1928, 380 persons at different times made their home in the county jail. This does not include the number of persons arrested on minor charges, taken before a justice of peace, who paid their fines and were released. In 1927 the sheriff's department arrested 293 persons and probably about half as many on minor charges who never had their names on the jail record.

During the year 1928 the cars used by the sheriff's department traveled about 60,000 miles. This does not include the number of bus trips and train trips made by the attaches at the office.

Sheriff Davis starts on his second term as sheriff of Pickaway-co, on Jan. 7. The force will remain the same. The sheriff will have as his deputies, John Ward, Carl Porter and Miller Fissell.

PLAN SPECIAL TEST OF COWS

Emergency Tuberculin Examinations Considered For Herds In County.

About 70 patrons of the Pickaway Dairy Co., gathered at the farm bureau office Friday afternoon to discuss an emergency tuberculin test for cattle in this vicinity.

Robert Wiley explained to the persons attending the meeting the necessity of having an emergency test and H. S. Lewis discussed the testing and the means of compensation in case of reactors.

According to information learned at the farm bureau office, many cities to whom dairy products are being sent from this vicinity have stated that in the spring they will not purchase any milk except that which is from tested cattle.

In view of this fact it will probably be necessary for the patrons of the dairy company to have an emergency test before the regular county wide test is made.

PNEUMONIA ENDS IN BOY'S DEATH

Relatives in this city have been notified of the death in St. Regis hotel, Cleveland, on Thursday, of John Henry Mertens, 15-year-old son of Edwin and Kathleen Henry Mertens, after an illness of one week from pneumonia following an attack of influenza.

The young man is well known in Circleville, having been a guest of his aunt, Mrs. John Henry of W. Franklin-st during last summer. He was an only child. His father, E. A. Mertens, died very suddenly in Nov., 1927, in Denver, Colo.

The body of the youth was taken to Syracuse, N. Y. today for interment beside his father.

PLUNGES TO QUICK DEATH

Rubber Magnate Falls From
Window After Return From
Night Club Tour.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—A few moments after bidding good night to the young woman with whom he had been going the round of the night clubs, Horace L. Williamson, 65, millionaire vice-president of the United States Rubber Co. and Colonel on the staff of the governor of Kentucky, plunged to his death early today from a tenth-story window of the Congress apartments.

His body, clad in evening clothes, was found in the rear courtyard by John Nugent, superintendent of the exclusive dwelling.

After detectives questioned Williamson's companion, Miss Fru Nunnally, the tragedy was recorded as accidental.

Miss Nunnally, a pretty brunette, told the detective after overcoming her first hysteria:

"The first I learned of Mr. Williamson's death was when the superintendent rushed upstairs. I had rung for an elevator to go down, having left Mr. Williamson shortly before in his apartment."

"We had been to a club after going to a movie."

"Mr. Williamson has been a friend of mine since 1926."

Police said they found an empty brandy bottle in Williamson's five-room suite, a partially filled bottle of Vermouth and several glasses. Appearances of the dining room table pointed to dinner having been served.

MINISTERS TO HOLD MEETING MONDAY

The Pickaway-co Ministers' Association will hold its regular monthly meeting on Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Presbyterian church. It is ordinarily held on Tuesday.

The afternoon program will consist of a review given by the Rev. Franklin McElfresh of Professor George A. Coe's great book, "Motives of Men."

JOHN E. DEERE IS PNEUMONIA VICTIM

John E. Deere, 68, farmer, died at his home in Washington-twp at 1 a. m. Saturday after four days' illness of pneumonia.

He was born in Greenup, Ky., on Jan. 1, 1861, and was the son of James and Mary Deere. He came to this county 25 years ago. His wife, who was Miss Julia Artrip, died March 17, 1928.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. George Byers and Mrs. Van Smith, Circleville; and Mrs. Anna Clark Greenup, Ky.

Funeral services for Mr. Deere will be held Monday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Byers, 414 E. Mound-st, at 2 p. m. with interment in Forest cemetery. Mader and Ebert are in charge of arrangements.

Carl Helwagen, who was called here recently by the death of his brother, Paul Helwagen, left Friday for his home in Portland, Ore.

FOKKER PLANE AFTER RECORD OF DIRIGIBLES

Tired Aviators Stay Close To
Home Port—Equalling
Dixmude Is Goal.

(BULLETIN)

METROPOLITAN AIRPORT, Los Angeles, Jan. 5—

Aloft for 96 hours the record smashing army endurance Fokker monoplane "Question Mark" continued to soar over the airport at 7:35 a. m., Pacific standard time. Another mid-air refueling was to be made in a short time.

METROPOLITAN AIRPORT, Los Angeles, Jan. 5—"Everything fine."

This was the reassuring word at the airport here from the army endurance monoplane "Question Mark" as it soared over the field and passed its 94th hour of continuous flight at 5:27 o'clock.

With the world's record for sustained flying by heavier than air machines already tucked in their belts, the valiant crew of five, commanded by Major Carl Spatz, kept their big craft aloft, determined not to land until the three Wright Whirlwind motors crack or they themselves collapse from sheer exhaustion.

LONG STRETCH AHEAD

Twenty-four hours of flight stretched ahead of the "Question Mark" before they will equal the most difficult record in the history of aviation, the endurance mark for lighter than air machines. This record is 112 hours of continuous flying and was set up by the subsequently wrecked French dirigible Dixmude.

The great army plane is keeping in close touch with Metropolitan airport here, for from now on trouble may develop at any time which may terminate the grind.

The massive machine and its crew have been through a terrific ordeal since taking off New Year's morning, and ground officials today were speculating on how soon the breaking point of the men or the plane will be reached.

To receive official recognition the flight must end at the starting point, Metropolitan airport.

YOUTH SLAIN, CORONER SAYS

High School Student Who
Killed Bootlegger, Later
Murdered Is Belief.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 5. Orrin H. Hoover, 17, a quiet, manly high school boy, shot and killed Joseph Skablanckas, 38, because he had sold the boy's father liquor—but young Hoover could not have shot himself afterwards, Coroner H. Wolfe declared today.

Myrtle Skablanckas, 33, Joe's wife, was the only other person in the house at the time of the shooting and she may have slain Orrin to avenge the death of her husband, the coroner asserted.

Although Myrtle was released last night by Sheriff Byron J. Patterson after an all day grilling, she was to be brought in again today for further questioning.

The woman told Sheriff Patterson the youth had come to her house soon after midnight yesterday and had hammered and kicked on the door until he was admitted. Then, she said, he shot Joe and turned the gun on himself.

Sheriff Patterson maintains that Orrin shot Skablanckas while in a mental fury because the Lithuanian had sold the elder Hoover liquor and then had committed suicide.

The coroner, however, disagreeing with the suicide theory, declared the bullet which killed the youth had penetrated his heart and lodged on the right side of the spine. It could not have been fired by a right handed person, he said, and Orrin was right handed.

RUNAWAY IS HELD

COLUMBUS, Jan. 5.—Jane Archer, 16-year-old Cleveland runaway, is being held here today by police, pending arrival of juvenile authorities from Cleveland. The girl was taken into custody Friday night as she stepped off a train at Union station.

Tigers are Defeated by Y Day School Five

SALT CREEK IS AGAIN VICTOR IN CAGE GAME

Other Teams of County Clash With Division of Honors As Rule Friday.

After a holiday vacation from the hardwood court the Pickaway-co cage teams again resumed play Friday evening and county fans had plenty of good amusement.

Following are the scores of the county teams:

BOYS
Circleville, 21; Y Day school, 29.
Emery club, 38; Cambridge Junior class, 22.
Ashville, 8; Perry, 21.
Saltcreek, 44; Washington-tw, four.

GIRLS
New Holland, 23; Williamsport, 10.
Walnut-tw, 34; Pickaway-tw, 23.
Saltcreek-tw, 28; Washington-tw, 18.
Ashville, 16; Perry-tw, 11.

In a good and hard fought game, the local Tigers went down to a defeat by the Columbus Y Day school Friday evening. Circleville hit a streak of tough luck and had a hard time hitting the basket.

VISITORS TAKE LEAD
Y Day school took its lead in the first quarter. Walker, a Columbus product, was the outstanding player of the game but Davis, local player, was high score man with 11 points to his credit. The game was clean throughout and was a real basketball game filled with plenty of excitement.

The lineup follows:
Circleville—Heeter, rf; Heiskell, lf; Goeller, c; Wilson, rg; Davis, lg; Phillips, sub on lg.
Y Day—Botteral, rf; Slick, lf; Weaver, c; Walker, rg; Johnson, rg; Wheeler, lg.

Since the girls' team had an open date the Emery club and the Cambridge Junior class five played and Emery won, 19 to 10.

The Cambridge team were outplayed in every way. Gilt started the Emery club with 16 points to his credit while Dix ran second with 11.

Both of these teams struck a streak of luck and the players flopped in buckets from the center of the floor.

ASHVILLE BOYS LOSE
The Ashville teams divided the honors at Perry. The boys suffered a defeat by Perry by a score of 11 to 8 while the girls evened up by defeating Perry, 16 to 11.

Coach Davis of Ashville said ceiling at Perry was so low team could not find the basket.

WIN AND LOSE
The Williamsport team defeated New Holland before a good crowd of 17 to 16 in probably the best cage game played in the city.

The game was close throughout. Williamsport, was big noise of the Williamsport tw, making 11 points for the up over the river. On the New Holland cage machine every man tried but Mace ranked the high with six points.

The Williamsport girls were not lucky as they fell down to a 15 to 23 to 10. Briggs and Arnold on the New Holland team ran wild, while Carter and cr. stars for the Williamsport team, did not get a good chance to shine.

WALSH FINDS BOCHE TO BE REAL FIGHTER

German Heavyweight Makes Good Impression In His Defeat of Joe Sekyra

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—They said he looked like Dempsey, so I went up to the garden last night to see what it was all about and it must be admitted that they were pretty nearly right. Almost immediately, I noted a marked resemblance.

Both Dempsey and Max Schmeling, the German heavyweight, are in the habit of walking strictly on the soles of their feet. In other words, this Schmeling doesn't fight like Dempsey, he fights exactly like Max Schmeling, the German heavyweight, and doggone me if I'm not afraid that the man is a real fighter, at that. He beat nobody's chump last night when he won, going away, from Joe Sekyra, in ten rounds of fast, interesting and instructive fighting. The instruction mostly was experienced by Sekyra, who uncovered the best fight the writer has seen him make, yet couldn't win more than three rounds of the ten.

These prototypes seldom have anything on the globe and granting that there are some few points of resemblance between the slim, svelte Dempsey of 1918 and the Schmeling of today, it may be just as well for the young man's future if we consider him strictly as himself. He would seem to have enough promise in own right any way.

The salient features of both are a set of beetling eyebrows and a weaving style in action. The salient difference, barring the fact that no man of this age punches like Dempsey, is that Jack uses the weave to set himself for a punch. Schmeling uses it to escape a punch and one must admit that his head-slipping is nothing to view with disdain. This fellow really can box. He can accept a punch with some degree of tranquility, too, for Sekyra wasn't in there doing a buck and wing. He was fighting back gamely and well and he scored often enough with rights and lefts.

The best punch of the fight, in fact went to the Dayton entry, a right uppercut to the goatee, aided and abetted by the fact that Schmeling weaved lefty into it.

It came at the end of the third round and left Sekyra with a fair lead up to this point, Joe having showed lots of alacrity with a

The German had been touted as a great right-hand puncher and I can find nothing in particular to complain about in this connection, however, his best punch last night was a straight left and a left hook, the latter being shot from intentions were not strictly honorable of this hand that nonplussed able.

Joseph considerably as the fight went on and finally cut him down to proper size. Schmeling had been leading rights from the thirty-sixth row early in the evening but he thought better of it later in the proceedings and, at the end, he was pumping the left into Sekyra's countenance as though his intentions were not strictly honorable.

GREATER BEAUTY—LARGER BODIES

When the new Superior Whippet was presented to the American public last month, it won the enthusiastic praise of millions who thronged the 6,000 show-rooms of Willys-Overland dealers. The style creation of master designers, the new Superior Whippet interludes beauty of line and color never before associated with Four and Eight Seaters. Lower bodies, higher radiator and hood, sweeping one-piece full cowl fenders, all contribute to the trim, smart appearance that arouses the admiration of millions throughout the country.

In roominess and comfort, the new Superior Whippet sets its own advanced standards. The more spacious interiors are scientifically designed for maximum head room, leg room and elbow room. Riding comfort is further enhanced by wider seats with firm-fitting backs, over-size balloon tires, smoother and longer springs both front and rear.

Mechanically, the new Superior Whippet improves upon even its own predecessor. A higher compression engine gives considerably more speed, power, pick-up.

See the new Superior Whippet today. An immediate order will insure early delivery.

On S. S. Lesson
By D. Carl Yoder

Our Heavenly Father, Matt. 6: 24:34 for Sunday, Jan. 6th.

The lessons for the year, 1929, are selected for the purpose of setting forth great evangelical doctrines and teachings in the light of God's word. The theme for the first quarter is "Some Great Christian Teachings" The aim of this lesson is to show the fatherhood of God.

V. 24—"No man can serve two masters, for he will either hate the one and love the other; or else he will hold to one and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon. One can serve various interests and be loyal to worthy objects provided they are properly related to one another and to the great object of giving God the first place in our consideration. Mammon is a symbol for wealth which has many devotees.

V. 25—"Therefore I say unto you, be not anxious for your life, that ye shall eat or what ye shall drink—Is not life more than food and the body more than raiment?" One can not be truly happy who does not give up care and who is anxious about something all the time. Here is a command of Christ as binding as other commands universally accepted.

V. 26—"Behold the birds of the heaven, that they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns and your Heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye of much more value than they? The needs of the birds are supplied and they have an instinct to seek these supplies. Man's needs are equally supplied and the instinct of complete trust in God needs to be developed.

V. 27—"Which of you by being anxious can add one cubit to the measure of his life?" No man grows by simply trying to grow. He observes the laws of growth without worrying how tall or short he will become.

V. 28—"And why are ye anxious concerning raiment? Consider the lilies of the field how they grow—even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed as one of these." God provides for man so completely that life may be made beautiful in character and service.

V. 32—"For after all these things do the Gentiles seek, for your Heavenly Father knoweth ye have need of these things." God made man's physical wants. They are not to be treated lightly; we ought to believe that the essential things are supplied."

The Church Invites You

Sentence Appeals

Sunday well spent includes attendance at a church service.

The Christian religion has done more for mankind than any other element in the world's history.

Your best interest comes from your share in a Christian church.

The time spent in a service of worship is for the highest good of the soul.

How you spend Sunday will count in the way you spend eternity.

The only investment that profits you beyond the grave is to give yourself to the Lord's will and work.

Don't wait for the hearse to carry you there; go to church while you are alive.

Why not accept the invitation and COME TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY?

D. Carl Yoder.

WHAT DO YOUR CLIENTS THINK OF YOUR KNOWLEDGE

No man succeeds permanently without a thorough knowledge of his business. Certainly this is true of the insurance business. Clients and prospects expect their "insurance man" to know "his stuff." He should be able to answer questions quickly and accurately and when he writes a policy, his customers will have confidence in the protection they have bought.

1. WHAT IS THE TEST OF A SPIRITUAL CHURCH?

H. A. Overstreet, professor of psychology in New York university answers this question by asking five questions, the answers to which serve to indicate somewhat the spiritual status of the church. The questions are these: Has the church done any thing different during the last year? Has the inspiration of these new things come solely from the top down, from the minister, or has it, time and again, come from the group themselves? During the last year has the group concerned itself with anything outside of the church itself? How many members belong to the prejudice fostering group which breeds hatred through a distortion of fact? How many members belong to groups that are organized for a deliberate purpose of finding out the truth about human matters? Is the church tribal-minded, indicated by membership in world associations, associations for promoting world peace, for developing the international mind?

WHAT IS THE END AND AIM OF THE CHURCH?

The end or aim of the church by good authority is the creation of the kingdom of God upon earth, the reign of God in the hearts of

Mr. Lincoln and the Bible

A visitor in Washington D. C. had arranged to visit the president at 5 a. m. Fearing that he might miss the president even at so early an hour, he presented himself at the White House at 4:45 and asked the usher if he could see Mr. Lincoln.

"No," the usher replied.

"But I have an engagement to meet him this morning," urged the visitor.

"At what hour?" questioned the usher.

"Five o'clock."

"Well, sir, the president will see you at five."

The visitor waited patiently walking to and fro for a few minutes, when he heard a voice as if in grave conversation.

"Who is talking in the next room?" he asked.

"It is the president, sir," said the usher, who then explained that it was Mr. Lincoln's custom to spend every morning from 4 to 5 reading the scriptures and praying.

At the request of a mission working among gypsies in Bulgaria, numbering about 120,000, the American Bible society has authorized preparation of a portion of the Gospel to be printed in the Bulgarian character. The gospel of Luke is the only part of the Bible available to the gypsies at present.

Many of the most popular magazines in Japan, according to To-yohiko Kagawa, an evangelist and reformer, are now devoting their pages to moral education. The daily newspapers are now publishing Christian articles, also.

The Roman Catholic church throughout the world is contributing a large sum for the building of a church in Jerusalem. The corner stone of this edifice was laid in 1919. The building is located in the Garden of Gethsemane over the spot on which, according to tradition, Jesus knelt for His prayer on the night of His betrayal. The cost of the church will be approximately $450,000 and will be completed in about three years.

An attempt is being made to locate Noah's ark to place among other exhibits at the Centennial Exhibition in Chicago in 1933. Funds for the undertaking will be donated by Rufus G. Dawes, president of the World's fair. It is proposed to search over and all around Mount Ararat by airplanes, equipped with large cameras. Vast sections of this territory have never been explored. Wooden chariot wheels, have recently been unearthed in Mesopotamia, the age of which is estimated at 5,000 years.

The Significance of the Peace Pact.

The Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America at its recent annual meeting went on record as to the significance of the Kellogg Peace Pact in the following statement: "The acceptance of the Pact by the nations as an imperative obligation to seek the solution of their controversies by peaceful methods exclusively will depend in large measure on the acceptance of that obligation in actual practice by the United States itself. We believe that any material increase of the United States navy at this time would be inconsistent with the spirit and purpose of the General Pact of Paris and would tend to nullify its influence in producing mutual confidence among the nations. We therefore urge that no authorization be given for such increase."

Our Heavenly Father, Matt. 6: 24:34 for Sunday, Jan. 6th.
The lessons for the year, 1929, are selected for the purpose of setting forth great evangelical doctrines and teachings in the light of God's word. The theme for the first quarter is "Some Great Christian Teachings." The aim of this lesson is to show the fatherhood of God.

V. 21—"No man can serve two masters, for he will either hate the one and love the other; or else he will hold to one and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon." "One can serve various interests and be loyal to worthy objects provided they are properly related to one another and to the great object of giving God the first place in our consideration. Mammon is a symbol for wealth which has many devotees."
V. 25—"Therefore I say unto you, be not anxious for your life."

The Church Invites You

Sentence Appeals

Sunday well spent includes attendance at a church service.
The Christian religion has done more for mankind than any other element in the world's history.

Your best interest comes from your share in a Christian church.
The time spent in a service of worship is for the highest good of the soul.

How you spend Sunday will count in the way you spend eternity.

The only investment that profits you beyond the grave is to give yourself to the Lord's will and work.

Don't wait for the hearse to carry you there; go to church while you are alive.

Why not accept the invitation and COME TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY?

WHAT DO YOUR CLIENTS THINK OF YOUR KNOWLEDGE

No man succeeds permanently without a thorough knowledge of his business. Certainly this is true of the insurance business. Clients and prospects expect their "insurance man" to know "his stuff." He should be able to answer questions quickly and accurately and when he writes a policy, his customers will have confidence in the protection they have bought.

V. 27—"Which of you by being anxious can add one cubit to the measure of his life?" No man grows by simply trying to grow. He observes the laws of growth without worrying how tall or short he will become.

V. 28—"And why are ye anxious concerning raiment? Consider the lilies of the field how they grow—even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed as one of these." God provides for man so completely that life may be made beautiful in character and service.

V. 32—"For after all these things do the Gentiles seek, for your Heavenly Father knoweth ye have need of these things." God made man's physical wants. They are not to be treated lightly; we ought to believe that the essential things are supplied."

WHAT IS THE END AND AIM OF THE CHURCH?

The end or aim of the church by good authority is the creation of the kingdom of God upon earth, the reign of God in the hearts of men, the realm and presence of God in the affairs of men. The end is both social and individual. It is the creation of a better environment for man to live in; it is the making of better nations, better cities, better social lives and better homes.

Discussion on Questions S. S. Lesson

The Fatherland of God, Matt. 6: 23-24 for Sunday, Jan. 6th.

1. In what sense are Christians special children of God and in what sense are all children of God?

2. How can it be shown that God really is and that He really cares for men?

3. What are some of the masters that bid for first place in our hearts' desires?

4. What things do we worry about most? Why is it wrong to worry?

5. What is God's relation to all nature?

6. What is the kingdom of God and how make it first in our lives? Clemens says:

"The world is wide in time and tide, and God is guide—then do not hurry."

That man is best who does his best and lo

And leaves the rest—then do not worry."

LESSON PRAYER
"We thank thee as our father who cares for us; give up a sense of appreciation of thy love for us: THAT 'WILL' LEAD US TO MAKE THY KINGDOM FIRST IN OUR LIVES."

Tigers are Defeated by Y Day School Five

SALT CREEK IS AGAIN VICTOR IN CAGE GAME

Other Teams of County Clash With Division of Honors As Rule Friday.

After a holiday vacation from the hardwood court the Pickaway-co cage teams again resumed play Friday evening and county fans had plenty of good amusement.

Following are the scores of the county teams:

BOYS
Circleville, 21; Y Day school, 29.
Emery Club, 38; Cambridge Junior class, 22.
Ashville, 8; Perry, 21.
Saltcreek, 44; Washington-tw-p, four.

GIRLS
New Holland, 23; Williamsport, 10.
Walnut-tw-p, 34; Pickaway-tw-p, 23.
Saltcreek-tw-p, 28; Washington-tw-p, 18.

Ashville, 16; Perry-tw-p, 11.
In a good and hard fought game, the local Tigers went down to a defeat by the Columbus Y Day school Friday evening. Circleville hit a streak of tough luck and had a hard time hitting the basket.

VISITORS TAKE LEAD
Y Day school took its lead in the first quarter. Walker, a Columbus product, was the outstanding player of the game but Davis, local player, was high score man with 11 points to his credit. The game was clean throughout and was a real basketball game filled with plenty of excitement.

The lineup follows:
Circleville—Heeter, rf; Heiskell, lf; Goeller, c; Wilson, rg; Davis, lg; Phillips, sub on lg.
Y Day—Botteral, rf; Slick, lf; Weaver, c; Walker, rg; Johnson, rg; Wheeler, lg.

Since the girls' team had an open date the Emery club and the Cambridge Junior class five played and Emery won, 19 to 10.

The Cambridge team were outplayed in every way. Glitt starred in the Emery club with 16 points to his credit while Dix ran second with 11.

Both of these teams struck a streak of luck and the players flopped in buckets from the center of the floor.

ASHVILLE BOYS LOSE
The Ashville teams divided the honors at Perry. The boys suffered a defeat by Perry by a score of 21 to 8 while the girls evened up by defeating Perry, 16 to 11.

Coach Davis of Ashville said ceiling at Perry was so low team could not find the basket.

etty, a substitute in the game one quarter, made four points for the Ashville team.

WIN AND LOSE
The Williamsport team defeated Walnut before a good crowd a score of 17 to 16 in probably the best cage game played in the county.

The game was close throughout. Emerson, of Williamsport, was a big noise of the Williamsport team, making 11 points for the team over the river. On the New Holland cage machine every man tried but Mace ranked the highest with six points.

The Williamsport girls were not lucky as they fell down to a defeat of 23 to 10. Briggs and Arnold on the New Holland team ran wild, while Carter and Er, stars for the Williamsport team, did not get a good chance to shine.

SALT CREEK WINS
Saltcreek, as usual, is still talking up victories. The Saltcreek boys defeated Washington the side at Tarlton by a score of 44 to 4 while the girls defeated Washington-tw-p 28 to 18.

The Saltcreek-tw-p boys' team only one loss to its credit and it was a defeat Atlanta handed them at the start of the season. As they have thrown aside as they have met some of the best teams in the county and carried away victories.

Hortense and Spangler of the Saltcreek team, played the same usual and starred as they have in former games. On the Saltcreek girls' team, which is now coming to the front, Chilcote, center, and Walters on forward were mainly responsible for the victory Friday.

Pickaway-tw-p school was both

Come To Wilder's Drug Store, Monday and Tuesday of Next Week and get a bottle of the Wonder Medicine, Hoyt's Compound, free of charge. This offer holds good for Monday and Tuesday, only Dr. J. M. Pickel of Terre Haute, Indiana has used this great medicine in his every day practice for over 40 years. It is not a patent medicine formulated by an ordinary layman for the purpose of making money, but a prescription that has proved its merits by actual results obtained through 40 years of continued use. The actual percentage of ailments, relieved by Hoyt's Compound as shown by the records and files of Dr. Pickel are, stomach trouble 90%, rheumatism 80%, kidney trouble 85%, liver trouble 85%, constipation 86%, nervousness 80%, neuritis 90%, indigestion 85%, catarrh 75%, and general weakness 90%.

If you are suffering from any of the above ailments don't miss this wonderful opportunity to get a bottle of this miracle medicine absolutely free on these two days.

Dr. J. M. Pickel
Founder of Hoyt's Compound

This offer is made for the purpose of introducing Hoyt's Compound to Circleville and is good for two days only.

The Hoyt's Compound specialist will be in the store Monday and Tuesday and explain the merits of this great medicine.

Don't forget the location—Wilder's Drug Store, Circleville, Ohio.

WALSH FINDS BOCHE TO BE REAL FIGHTER

German Heavyweight Makes Good Impression In His Defeat of Joe Sekyra

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—They said he looked like Dempsey, so I went up to the garden last night to see what it was all about and it must be admitted that they were pretty nearly right. Almost immediately, I noted a marked resemblance.

Both Dempsey and Max Schmeling, the German heavyweight, are in the habit of walking strictly on the soles of their feet.

In other words, this Schmeling doesn't fight like Dempsey, he fights exactly like Max Schmeling, the German heavyweight, and dog-gone me if I'm not afraid that the man is a real fighter, at that. He beat nobody's chump last night when he won, going away, from Joe Sekyra, in ten rounds of fast, interesting and instructive fighting. The instruction mostly was experienced by Sekyra, who uncovered the best fight the writer has seen him make, yet couldn't win more than three rounds of the ten.

These prototypes seldom have anything on the globe and granting that there are some few points of resemblance between the slim, svelte Dempsey of 1918 and the Schmeling of today, it may be just as well for the young man's future if we consider him strictly as himself. He would seem to have enough promise in own right anyway.

The salient features of both are a set of beetling eyebrows and a weaving style in action. The salient difference, barring the fact that no man of this age punches like Dempsey, is that Jack uses the weave to set himself for a punch. Schmeling uses it to escape a punch and one must admit that his head-slipping is nothing to view with disdain. This fellow really can box. He can accept a punch with some degree of tranquility, too, for Sekyra wasn't in there doing a buck and wing. He was fighting back gamely and well and he scored often enough with rights and lefts.

The best punch of the fight, in fact went to the Dayton entry, a right uppercut to the goatee, aided and abetted by the fact that Schmeling weaved lefty into it.

It came at the end of the third round and left Sekyra with a fair lead up to this point, Joe having showed lots of alacrity with a

The German had been touted as a great right-hand puncher and I can find nothing in particular to complain about in this connection, however, his best punch last night was a straight left and a left hook, the latter being shot from intentions were not strictly honorable of this hand that nonplussed

Joseph considerably as the fight went on and finally cut him down to proper size. Schmeling had been leading rights from the thirty-sixth row early in the evening but he thought better of it later in the proceedings and, at the end, he was pumping the left into Sekyra's countenance as though his intentions were not strictly honorable of this hand that nonplussed

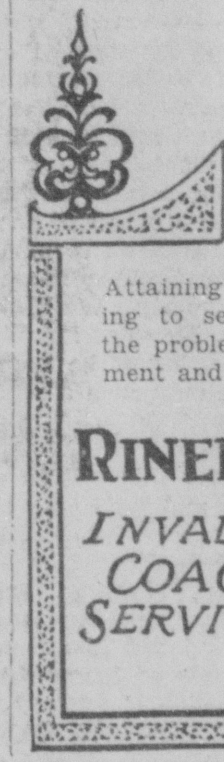

COMING — CLIFTONA THEATRE

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 6-7-8

An epic of a different sort—glorifying the Heroes of the Deep, portraying them in their natural environs under the sea. It will get you, grip you and refuse to release its hold upon you. You'll like it.

"Submarine" is one of the greatest pictures for the 1929 season and we feel proud to say that the Cliftona Theater is going to be the first to run "Submarine," so see it in Circleville First.

GREATER BEAUTY--LARGER BODIES

When the new Superior Whippet was presented to the American public last month, it won the enthusiastic praise of millions who thronged the 6,700 show-rooms of Willys-Overland dealers. The style creation of master designers, the new Superior Whippet introduces beauty of line and color never before associated with Fours and Light Sixes. Lower bodies, higher radiator and hood, sweeping one-piece full crown fenders, all contribute to the trim, smart appearance that arouses the admiration of millions throughout the country.

GREATER BEAUTY--LARGER BODIES

The new Superior Whippet sets its own advanced standards. The more spacious interiors are scientifically designed for maximum head room, leg room and elbow room. Riding comfort is further enhanced by wider seats with form-fitting backs, oversize balloon tires, snubbers, and longer springs both front and rear.

Mechanically, the new Superior Whippet improves upon even its own predecessor. A higher compression engine gives considerably more speed, power, pick-up.

GREATEST INCREASE IN RESOURCES MADE

Buckeye State Building and Loan Co. Gains Over $7,000,000 in 1928.

The sixty-eighth semi-annual statement of The Buckeye State Building and Loan Co., Columbus, on Jan., shows the greatest increase in resources in the Buckeye's 34 years' history.

During 1928 this financial institution grew over $7,000,000, showing total assets over $47,250,000. It also added materially to membership, now serving over 90,000 customers.

A substantial amount also was placed to reserve and surplus, which now is $2,003,168.17. These funds are the net earnings during 34 years and are for the sole protection and benefit of investors.

President McCullough stated that his company had over 11,800 loans yielding 6 per cent secured by first mortgages on real estate, loaned on the usual conservative basis and all loans approved by the board of directors.

President McCullough stated that the office portion of the company's new 15-story building, 36-42 East Gay-st is rented on long term leases, which condition prevailed since one month after the occupancy of the building.

Mr. McCullough is optimistic regarding business for 1929, and believes that industrial, mercantile and financial conditions are rapidly improving and that all labor will find ready employment during the coming year.

W. C. T. U. MEETS

The Salem Women's Christian Temperance Union met Wednesday afternoon Jan. 2nd at the home of Mrs. Lillian Hinton with her sister, Mrs. Ernest Penn, assistant hostess. The meeting was called to order at 2:15 o'clock by all singing "America," the president, Miss Mary Harpster, presiding. Responsive reading, scripture lesson, the 98th Psalm was followed by prayer offered by Mrs. Flora Shoemaker. After the song, "The Old Rugged Cross" on the Victrola, clippings from the Victory Day program were read by Mrs. Helen Penn. "More and Better Hedges" and "Dry Dinners then and Now." Mrs. Bessie Miller, "Young Folks Better," Mrs. Alice Brundage, "Why a Dry Dollar Buys More than a Wet One." Mrs. Bessie Allen: "Ordinary Neighborhoods." After the calling of the roll and the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Mrs. Lillian Hinton, "The Star Spangled Banner" record was played. Miss Edna Rice, the treasurer, gave the yearly report. After another record of sacred music the meeting was given over to Mrs. Adele Wall of Circleville, who is the parliamentary director for Pickaway-co who gave a splendid address on the subject of parliamentary usage, very interesting and very instructive. Mrs. Wall appointed Mrs. Alice Brundage the director for Salem Union for 1929.

BIBLE THOUGHT

THE SYMPATHY OF OUR GOD—In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the Angel of His presence saved them; in His love and in His pity He redeemed them and He bore them, and carried them all the days of old.—Isaiah 63:9.

PRAYER—"We rejoice in the love of God which is 'broader than the measure of man's mind.'"

A COSTLY OIL LEAK

Just before the election Attorney General Sargent, after more than patient deliberation, was impelled to publish his decision that the original contract between former Secretary Fall in Sinclair interests covering the Salt Creek oil field in Wyoming was invalid; it followed that the renewal of the contract by Dr. Hubert Work, Fall's successor as Secretary of the Interior, was void. It was apparent that both the contract and its renewal were illegal and highly disadvantageous to the government in the sale of its royalty oil. The best proof that the government was a heavy loser in these dubious bargains is now furnished by Secretary West, who has accepted the bids of other oil companies for the government royalty oil from the Salt Creek field at figures netting the government, as Secretary West says, "$1,000 a day more than it has been receiving under the previous arrangements."

"The previous arrangements" were suspicious not only because of the circumstances in which Fall entered into and Dr. Work continued them in force; they revealed lamentable lack of business sense on the part of the government agents. Whether the exact terms of the new award are right and reasonable we have no means of knowing, but they serve in demonstrating once more the worse than inefficiency which ruled at the top of a department of the government and still remains unpunished by the courts.

LET US BUILD, NOT DESTROY

At the new year period, it is natural to ask what changes the coming year can be expected to bring to our development and point of view.

The most dominating influence of the past 10 years since the war closed has been the feeling of disillusion. The soldiers came home from the war after great sacrifices and sufferings, feeling that the ends they had fought for were not secured. They were sickened by the horrors of war. They felt that the world had been most miserably mismanaged.

The result was a widespread feeling of revolt, not merely against politicians and diplomats, but against prevailing ideas and institutions. People set out to disregard the old rules of morality, family life, and obedience to the laws of the land. While some foolish notions were thus discarded, the general effect has been to leave the world worse than it was.

This feeling is merely a temporary phase, the ebb tide of war enthusiasm. We need today to build up rather than tear down.

This building up can not be done on any wholesale scale. Each individual and family and community is called on to do its part. It is to be hoped that the new year of 1929 will see substantial progress toward these ends. It is for the people individually to cling to the old truths of morality and honesty. It is for families to give attention to the proper training of their children. It is for each community to provide the best possible schools and churches where young people shall be brought up with moral ideals.

A PROMISE IN CHINA

Chiang Kai-Shek, president of China, tells his countrymen that he will see to it that the unequal treaties between China and the foreign powers are abrogated in the near future.

If this has not been done within three years, he says, he will allow his fellow citizens to cut off his head.

Very likely this is just an eloquent gesture. Yet it is fascinating to speculate on the possibilities of other presidents should adopt the idea. Can't you just picture a president of the United States vowing that he would submit to decapitation if he had not succeeded in making the country prosperous during his four years in

There came a time in the life of every woman when she wants to run a tea room, and in the life of every man when he wants to open a barbecue dump and filling station.

Which brings up the report that Mr. Hoover plans to build a highway, 60 feet wide, from New York to San Francisco, much as the Russian Czar built the Siberian railroad, by laying a ruler on the map and drawing a straight line, instructing the engineers to build thus, irrespective of cities, mountains, rivers or deserts. We don't believe that Mr. Hoover intends any such thing, but if he does, what a lot of detours such a road might have.

THE STORY OF A YOUNG MAN

Once upon a time Theophilus Cazenda, a young man who was an earnest seeker after wisdom, read in a book, "The way to improve one's mind is to seek the society of those wiser than yourself." It looked like a good wheeze, and Theophilus started out to put it into effect. After several patient years he abandoned the effort. "You see," he explained, "I couldn't find any people like that."

The girls of Purdue debated with the girls of Northwestern and. The subject was: Resolved, That Married Women Should Pursue Gainful Occupations." What this means is that after a girl gets married she should go out and get a job, and the Purdue girls thought so and won the debate and so, now, that's settled.

The position of the Purdue girls was that with the abundance of labor saving devices now in use married women didn't have enough to do. By labor saving devices one supposes they refer to an electric toaster and a carpet sweeper. There is plenty of bunk in this, but it does give the Purdue girls the edge on those of Northwestern in the matrimonial market.

While the war gave the anti-cigarette campaign an awful jolt it is popping up again. Anti-cigarette legislation has taken place in Utah, and other states are to be bombarded by the pagandists. We have no personal objection to cigarettes, though there is little nourishment in them, yet we wonder whether it is a good thing to take away all of the people's vices. WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.

JERRY DUNN, reporter, falls in love with Ann Tremaine, wealthy debutante. He takes her to live at his boarding house, and she is attracted to Steve Harrison, a husky young mechanic of whom Jerry is jealous. Ann gets a job in a small theatre owned by Nick Pagalos, and Steve goes into the trucking business. Maizie Thompson, an ex-sweetheart of Steve's, appears on the scene. She accuses Ann of having stolen Steve from her, but Steve denies this, saying he does not love Maizie. Ann and Steve leave the scene, this, saying he does not love Maizie. Ann and Steve leave the scene, this, saying he does not love Maizie. Ann and Steve leave the scene, this, saying he does not love Maizie.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XL

UNEXPECTEDLY, Jerry dropped into the theatre one day to get the tickets Ann had put aside in his name for Saturday night. No one else for the moment happened to be in the lobby and they talked through the ticket window, Jerry standing inside the polished brass rail. It gave him a queer feeling to see her standing thus, framed by the window, and earning her living. Her slick head was poised with a definite kind of confidence that had been lacking in her demeanor when she lived at home. The dark eyes, the clear skin, the interesting features were as alluring as ever, but there was about her, somehow, a new stamp of competent independence.

In these rather commonplace surroundings she was still unmistakably an aristocratic type. The thought came to Steve that it was odd that among all the people that knew Ann someone did not see her here and recognize her. Such a happening, however, would be mere coincidence because it was hardly likely any of Ann's friends would stray beyond their own purview to this humble neighborhood remote from either the fashionable section or the downtown business district of the spreading city. There were few places on earth where one could be swallowed up more completely than in the quicksands of a teeming metropolis.

"This job," he asked her, "do you still like it?"
"Crazy about it," she said crisply as she slipped the tickets towards him and deftly returned his change from a $5.00 bill.
"You know, this is the first time I've actually seen you in the role of a working girl," he told her, "and it's an interesting picture. I gaze upon my handiwork and find it good."

"I called you four times yesterday by telephone. If you were in they must have given me the wrong number."
"Sure I'd be glad to let you have ten berries, Bill, but the fact is I am broke myself."
"He's the friendliest dog in town. I never knew him to bother anybody before."
"Sorry I can't ask you out to dinner, old top, but we are redecorating the house right now."

RACE TRACK FILM

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Sally Blane are starred at the Grand theater tonight in "Dead Man's Curve."

This picture is an action drama of a young inventor, who enters the auto classic and emerges successful by proving the quality of his own invention, a motor. An educational comedy will also be shown.

GREAT FILM AT MET

John Gilbert and Greta Garbo in "A Woman of Affairs," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture from a Michael Arlen story of London's Mayfair, will open at the Met theater Sunday.

This picture is beautifully produced, and most artistically set pictorially. There is one scene of an Oxford and Cambridge boat race, for instance, which is amaz-there are those emotional episodes between Miss Garbo and Gilbert.

The story concerns the passionate love for one another of Diana Merrick (Miss Garbo) and Neville Holderness (Gilbert). Neville's father (Hobart Bosworth) is a stern old aristocrat who, having heard of the escapades of the wild daughter of the Merricks, convinces his son that it would be disastrous for him to marry her.

Discarded, Diana marries Davis Furness (John Mack Brown), a friend of her brother (Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.). Furness plunges to his death on the wedding night. Diana conceals the real reason for her husband's death, and every one, including Neville, suspects the worst.

To protect himself against the passionate remembrance of Diana, Neville marries Constance (Dorothy Sebastian). But nothing that Neville, or Diana, or any one else can do, is able to prevent the tremendous feeling for each other odd types. Your affair with Steve, for instance."

Ann wondered if it were possible to control a blush. She felt as though her face might color and she combated the impulse with a rigid determination. "What did Steve have to do with my case," she asked, almost antagonistically.

"Nothing at all, except that like you, I'm an incurable optimist. I suppose you have been finding a heart of gold in Steve's rugged bosom. It's barely possible, isn't it, that I might dig up something worthwhile within Maizie?"
Ann laughed. "I didn't know you were so high-minded. Are you getting to be an Evangelist of some kind?"

"I'll tell you about Maizie," Jerry said with his elbow on the little shelf in front of the ticket window. "She's a real character but she needs a little elevation in life to bring out the best of her charm. With you it was different—you had to drop back a notch or two to find yourself. 'Maizie has to come up. Think of that— isn't it charming? I have a hand in dragging you down from your high level and, perhaps pulling her up from her low level.'"

What he was saying sounded a little ridiculous to Ann. The worst of it was he seemed to believe it himself.

"You're a regular elevator taking people up and down," she said, "aren't you?"

But she was determined to be fair—after all, she was not in love with Jerry Dunn, and it was none of her business what he did. They were friends—pals. It was difficult, though, to be a mere friend to Jerry, because, whether she willed it or not, they seemed knit together by an indefinable relationship. If she had cared less about him she would have been able, paradoxically, to have treated him better. As it was, nothing he did ever quite suited her.

"I have an idea," he confided.

"Fantastic as usual?"

"Perhaps. I suppose you have a date yourself Saturday night with Steve—as usual?"

"And supposing I have?"

"Well, why can't the four of us get together, you and your boy friend Steve and I'll bring Maizie as my girl friend. We might as well be sociable and, besides, I think the experience might ease up Maizie's disappointment for Steve a bit. Just a crowd of boys and girls together, get the idea?"

"I think it's perfectly revolting," Ann declared primly.

Teeth and Tusks in Sale

Elephant tusks, hippopotamus teeth and rhinoceros horns changed owners in a sale recently at Antwerp, Belgium. In all, more than 140,000 pounds of ivory, 2,400 pounds of teeth and 280 pounds of horn were sold. Teeth suitable for making billiard balls, and known as "billiard teeth," were in some demand.

The election has had one marked effect already. It has brought jazz back to the radio.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

Editor, The Circleville Herald:—Owners of scales and measures as a rule would not keep them in first class condition were it not for state city and county inspection, is apparent.

Dealers are not expected to purchase costly standards in order to ascertain whether their scales and measures are accurate or not, any more than they are expected to maintain their fire or police protection.

Such work being recognized as public expense as well as a legitimate function of government, so the protection of our people from short weight as well as short measure by means of supporting a bureau of weights and measures, is certainly no less a public duty or function.

I am convinced that not a few who operate scales are ignorant relative to the principle of construction as well as methods of operation.

How many users of scales are familiar with the principles of the lever or law upon which the multiplying power of this type of scales is built or based?

Not being familiar with those principles counterpoise weights are frequently used interchangeably upon other scales having different leverages.

A SCALE BEING IN BALANCE is no indication that it weighs correctly.

If the beam is not graduated correctly the scale would register a false weight even though it be in the balance, or the poise might be heavy or light, or the nose-iron not properly adjusted.

THE ONLY WAY TO DETERMINE A SCALE OR MEASURE IS CORRECT IS BY COMPARING IT WITH GOVERNMENT STANDARDS.

A COSTLY OIL LEAK

Just before the election Attorney General Sargent, after more than patient deliberation, was impelled to publish his decision that the original contract between former Secretary Fall in Sinclair interests covering the Salt Creek oil field in Wyoming was invalid; it followed that the renewal of the contract by Dr. Hubert Work, Fall's successor as Secretary of the Interior, was void. It was apparent that both the contract and its renewal were illegal and highly disadvantageous to the government in the sale of its royalty oil. The best proof that the government was a heavy loser in these dubious bargains is now furnished by Secretary West, who has accepted the bids of other oil companies for the government royalty oil from the Salt Creek field at figures netting the government, as Secretary West says, "$1,000 a day more than it has been receiving under the previous arrangements."

"The previous arrangements" were suspicious not only because of the circumstances in which Fall entered into and Dr. Work continued them in force; they revealed lamentable lack of business sense on the part of the government agents. Whether the exact terms of the new award are right and reasonable we have no means of knowing, but they serve in demonstrating once more the worse than inefficiency which ruled at the top of a department of the government and still remains unpunished by the courts.

LET US BUILD, NOT DESTROY

At the new year period, it is natural to ask what changes the coming year can be expected to bring to our development and point of view.

The most dominating influence of the past 10 years since the war closed has been the feeling of disillusion. The soldiers came home from the war after great sacrifices and sufferings, feeling that the ends they had fought for were not secured. They were sickened by the horrors of war. They felt that the world had been most miserably mismanaged.

The result was a widespread feeling of revolt, not merely against politicians and diplomats, but against prevailing ideas and institutions. People set out to disregard the old rules of morality, family life, and obedience to the laws of the land. While some foolish notions were thus discarded, the general effect has been to leave the world worse than it was.

This feeling is merely a temporary phase, the ebb tide of war enthusiasm. We need today to build up rather than tear down.

This building up can not be done on any wholesale scale. Each individual and family and community is called on to do its part. It is to be hoped that the new year of 1929 will see substantial progress toward these ends. It is for the people individually to cling to the old truths of morality and honesty. It is for families to give attention to the proper training of their children. It is for each community to provide the best possible schools and churches where young people shall be brought up with moral ideals.

A PROMISE IN CHINA

Chiang Kai-Shek, president of China, tells his countrymen that he will see to it that the unequal treaties between China and the foreign powers are abrogated in the near future.

If this has not been done within three years, he says he will allow his fellow citizens to cut off his head.

Very likely this is just an eloquent gesture. Yet it is fascinating to speculate on the possibilities of other presidents should adopt the idea. Can't you just picture a president of the United States vowing that he would submit to decapitation if he had not succeeded in making the country prosperous within a certain period?

We don't believe that Mr. Hoover intends any such thing, but if he does, what a lot of detours such a road might have.

The girls of Purdue debated with the girls of Northwestern and the subject was: Resolved, That Married Women Should Pursue Gainful Occupations. What this means is that after a girl gets married she should go out and get a job, and the Purdue girls thought so and won the debate and so, now, that's settled.

The position of the Purdue girls was that with the abundance of labor saving devices now in use married women didn't have enough to do. By labor saving devices one supposes they refer to an electric toaster and a carpet sweeper. There is plenty of bunk in this, but it does give the Purdue girls the edge on those of Northwestern in the matrimonial market.

Philadelphia's main trouble seems to have been too much brotherly love between the bootleggers and the cops.

The election has had one marked effect already. It has brought jazz back to the radio.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

Editor The Circleville Herald:—Owners of scales and measures as a rule would not keep them in first class condition were it not for state, city and county inspection, is apparent.

Dealers are not expected to purchase costly standards in order to ascertain whether their scales and measures are accurate or not, any more than they are expected to maintain their fire or police protection.

Such work being recognized as public expense as well as a legitimate function of government, so the protection of our people from short weight as well as short measure by means of supporting a bureau of weights and measures, is certainly no less a public duty or function.

I am convinced that not a few who operate scales are ignorant relative to the principle of construction as well as methods of operation.

How many users of scales are familiar with the principles of the lever or law upon which the multiplying power of this type of scales is built or based?

Not being familiar with those principles counterpoise weights are frequently used interchangeably upon OTHER scales having different leverages.

A SCALE BEING IN BALANCE is no indication that it weighs correctly.

If the beam is not graduated correctly the scale would register a false weight even though it be in the balance, or the poise might be heavy or light, or the nose-iron not properly adjusted.

THE ONLY WAY TO DETERMINE A SCALE OR MEASURE IS CORRECT IS BY COMPARING IT WITH GOVERNMENT STANDARDS.

Samuel Lindsey, Former Chief Inspector Weights and Measures.

GREATEST INCREASE IN RESOURCES MADE

Buckeye State Building and Loan Co. Gains Over $7,000,000 in 1928.

The sixty-eighth semi-annual statement of The Buckeye State Building and Loan Co., Columbus, on Jan., shows the greatest increase in resources in the Buckeye's 34 years' history.

During 1928 this financial institution grew over $7,000,000, showing total assets over $47,250,000.

It also added materially to membership, now serving over 90,000 customers.

A substantial amount also was placed to reserve and surplus, which now is $2,003,168.17. These funds are the net earnings during 34 years and are for the sole protection and benefit of investors.

President McCullough stated that his company had over 11,800 loans yielding 6 per cent secured by first mortgages on real estate, loaned on the usual conservative basis and all loans approved by the board of directors.

President McCullough stated that the office portion of the company's new 15-story building, 36-42 East Gay-st is rented on long term leases, which condition prevailed since one month after the occupancy of the building.

Mr. McCullough is optimistic regarding business for 1929, and believes that industrial, mercantile and financial conditions are rapidly improving and that all labor will find ready employment during the coming year.

NEW YEAR'S GREETINGS TO THE BOYS AND GIRLS OF C. H. S.

"Happy New Year" is a common greeting which you have been hearing during the past few days. Does it carry a wealth of good wishes to you? Are you sending a wealth of meaning with your greeting?

"Happy New Year" will mean just what you make it mean. When you extend this greeting to your friends or they extend it to you, they and you are hoping that the year will bring you what you want and that you will want what is good for you.

We all have our own conception of happiness, yet this conception is as shifting as the sands of the sea. What we think would bring us the least happiness may later become our very ideal of happiness.

No matter what your conception of happiness may be, all of us have one common cause for happiness—a sense of accomplishment. We thrive on the praise and commendation of those with whom we associate. "Fine" or "well done" will give us a sense of happiness which will carry us through several days.

As I extend to you my wishes for a new year filled with happiness, I am trusting that it will be a year of accomplishment and work well done for this must bring happiness. May our mistakes and shiftness of the past be discarded for the accomplishments and ambitions of the future.

E. I. Gephart, Principal.

VACATION NOTES

Although the past few weeks were holidays, some of our high school students were very busy.

C. H. S. All State chorus went to Columbus, Thursday, Dec. 27, to take part in the All State meet. The morning and afternoon were spent in practicing. In the evening they sang with pupils from all parts of Ohio. They were in charge of Miss Wittich.

Friday, Dec. 21, C. H. S. boys basketball team defeated Clarksburg by a score of 22-11. The same evening the girls' team were victors over Clarksburg girls by a score of 31-21. Dec. 28, C. H. S. boys toured to Greenfield. They played McClain's quintet, and came out on the short end of a 31-13 score. The girls were idle.

Girl Reserves and Hi-Y received thanks for the program and presents given to the Home and Hospital.

Several teachers from our city schools attended the meeting of the Teachers' Association at Columbus, Thursday and Friday, Dec. 27-28.

We have had several comments on the boys' new basketball suits. We get very tired however, telling the outsiders that the figure on the front of the shirt is a tiger's head instead of a lion's, a dog's or an elephant's.

When we returned to school we found a clean, warm school building awaiting us, we believe the janitor has resolved to keep the building warm during the remainder of the cold days. Let's help keep the building clean, too. If he can turn over a new leaf, so can we.

Mr. Eagleson received news that his mother's home and all its contents burned on New Year's Day.

More pupils have been absent since the Christmas vacation because of sickness, than during any other time of the school year.

700 VOICES HEARD IN ALL STATE CHORUS

Thursday, Dec. 27, Miss Wittich chaperoned 23 students of C. H. S. to the All State Chorus in Columbus. This was an all-day affair beginning with rehearsal at 10 o'clock in the morning and lasting until noon. The second rehearsal from 1.15 until 4.00 filled the afternoon schedule.

In the evening the chorus sang to an appreciative as well as a large audience. Miss Wittich herself said the singing was "wonderful." She also quoted the words of the director, Mr. Griffith of Cleveland, "The All State Chorus of 1928 was the best chorus of high school students for its size that I have ever heard."

C. H. S. is proud to know that was responsible for 23 of those voices, and is glad to share in the

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION

The Old Year goes with the last hour of night,
The new arrives before the dawn of day.
With slates wiped clean and conscience right,
"All's well" the world seems to say.

I'm resolved to be kind, more considerate of others,
Be charitable, and industrious to.
With patience that can't be tared by unruly brothers,
Will make life assume a colorful hue.

Good deeds, better deeds, best deeds of all
Will be my aim to perform each day.
Like a ray of sunshine thro the squall,
Lighting a torch along the way.

Good resolutions that I solemnly swear
To keep by uplifted hand.
Led by the example of One who cares,
To make better and bigger this land.—H. K.

GIRL RESERVE MEETING

Thursday afternoon the Girl Reserves met in the Algebra room. The motion that the members of the club pay five cents to the treasury of the club on the first and third Thursdays of the month and ten cents on the second and fourth Thursdays, the motion was carried. The plan was thought to be easier and better method of collecting the money for the luncheons and literature of the club.

During the meeting the president asked the new members to give money for the pins to the secretary, before the next meeting which will be held in the Domestic Science Department Thursday-noon.

The topic for discussion, "A Perfect Body" was then discussed. Even though this topic was familiar to many of the girls, there were some new ideas and thoughts brought out in the questions and discussion of the sub-topics.

Miss Rains consented to be the advisor pro tem for Miss Watson was unable to be on hand.

Frances Metzgar, an alumna of C. H. S. and a charter member of the Girl Reserve Club, was a welcome visitor at the meeting.

TIGERS GROW UP

The boys' basketball team have all blossomed out in new suits. These suits each had a small tiger's head on it. These heads were mistaken for those of dogs, elephants and cats. But now the tigers have grown up. Heads of a larger size were placed in place of the small ones.

SCHOOL LIBRARY

For the accommodation of the freshmen and juniors, the Board of Education has purchased all books in the reading lists, necessary for those classes. The books will be kept in the school library, and are to be read at home, therefore it will not be necessary for the freshmen and junior English students to spend their evenings at the Public Library, preparing English.

These books are approved by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, of which Circleville High is a member.

The freshmen books are: Ivanhoe, Three Narrative Poems, As You Like It, and Short Stories.

The junior books are: Tale of Two Cities, Three English Comedies, Macbeth, and Idylls of the King.

FRESHMEN MEETING

The freshmen class held a meeting in the study hall Jan. 3, 1929. The meeting was called to order by the vice-president, Robert Greenlee, due to the absence of the president. The secretary then read the minutes of the previous meeting.

The purpose of the meeting was to decide about having a party. Many motions were offered, but were found to be unsatisfactory. It was then mentioned that every one pay up his dues and these plus the money in the bank would be enough for a party.

The vice-president then appointed a committee to prepare for the party. This committee consists of: Dudley Mills, chairman; Jean Fitzpatrick, Waldo Hilyard and Dorothy L. Glick. The vice-president asked for a motion to adjourn. This motion was offered and seconded.

JUNIOR RINGS

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

Typing students have been engaged in speed tests since returning to school after vacation. Many show a great deal of speed. The five highest in the advanced classes are Marvin Binkley, 51; Esther Drum, 50; Freda Dowden, 45; Martha Herrstein, 42; Elizabeth Roundhouse, 43. Number represents words per minute of test time.

Marie Kellstadt and Olive Weaver, who were the 15 minute students last year, made scores of 35 and 23 respectively.

In the beginners' class Eloise Eldridge was the highest with 32; Eloise Stonerock second with 27, and Phyllis Wagner third with 21.

The commercial department basketball team have received its basketball suits. These suits are purple and gold and are very fine looking.

The pants are of a solid purple with the exception of a gold stripe along the side and along the bottom.

The shirts are purple with two gold stripes about half way up on the front. Between the stripes on the front is a gold circle with the purple letters C. and D. Between the stripes on the back of the shirts are the numerals.

In all, the suits show up so well that we hope to see them in action soon.

The tragedy, "Her Country" takes place during the world war. It contains much mystery as well as pathos. A wounded British soldier and his wife try to brave the misfortunes of war. Come and see how the wife tries to solve this question at the submarine zone.

The satire, "The Drama" takes place in the office of a theatrical manager. The office crew cannot get the roles of the actors straightened out. A manuscript has been left by a budding genius. Somehow everyone has overlooked this and forgotten to read it. The young dramatist appears and the unlucky clerk is forced to face the music; then the fun begins. When you see this you will say, "Just like men." In this play, four girls masquerade as men.

The comedy, "Good Medicine" is enacted in a doctor's office. Times are hard and the doctor's patents fail to appear. Finally when one does come, the doctor's wife, serving as nurse, exhorts every means to keep her. The patient proves to have a startling number of diseases and complaining she has no appetite exclaims: "Bright's disease, heart trouble, tube-culosis, you call 'slight' ailments! RED AND BLACK SPARKS

Mr. Guthrie—Romeo, what have you been doing all morning?
Romeo—Nothing.

Mr. Guthrie—Jaggy, what have you been doing?

Davis—Helpin' Romeo.

Miss Kuhlman—Well begin the French Revolution next week. All come prepared.

Mr. Fetherlin—Oscar Reynolds, will you please run up the blind?

Oscar—Well, I'm not much of an athlete, but I'll try it once.

Thomas White—The X Y Z affair was where three men sent over to France.

Miss Kuhlman—Well, what were they sent for?

Thomas—To learn their A B C's.

Mr. Watts—Name a great universal time saver.

Jincy Mader—Love at first sight.

Bugs, the motor cop (to Emil Ross)—So you saw the accident? What was the number of the car that knocked the man down?

Emil—I'm afraid I've forgotten it; but I remember noticing that if it were multiplied by 50, the cubic root of the product would be equal to the sum of the digits reversed.

MISSIONARY MEETING AT U. B. CHURCH

The January meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the U. B. church met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mary Millrons, on E. Mound-st. She was the leader for the day and the subject of the devotion period was "That I May Know Him, the Master Teacher." This consisted of Bible texts read responsively and prayer by Mrs. Abbie Gusman. Mrs. Maude Peters had charge of the mission book chapter, and gave a most interesting talk upon "Education Among the Women and Girls of Africa." From out of the down-trodden slave women of Africa are emerging slowly but surely an intelligent, ambitious womanhood and girlhood who desire above all things to belong to that tribe of God of which the missionaries teach and to which they themselves belong. She pictured very plainly conditions as they really are in Africa and the wonderful good the missionaries are doing in the uplift of these people.

Mrs. Myrtle Trimmer read a leaflet, "The Marriage School" and told the true story of Berta, an African girl, the graduate of this school.

A pretty solo, "He Knows the Way" was sung by Mrs. Fannie Greene.

The other side of the education that of the men of Africa was presented by Mrs. Bessie Long, "Albert Academy." Mrs. Barton Lukens also read a leaflet, "The Lillian Harford School for Girls." After the wonder box questions, a short business session followed in charge of the Vice-president Mrs. Nan Kirkpatrick. During the social hour delicious home made candy was served by the hostess.

ALL DAY SEWING OF M. E. AIDE

All day sewing will be held at the home of Mrs. Isabelle Hafey on Cromley street, Ashville, on Wednesday, Jan. 9.

A hot cover dish lunch will be served at the noon hour. All members are requested to bring one covered dish food article and six sandwiches. Cream and coffee will be served by the Union.

TO INSTALL OFFICERS TUESDAY NIGHT

The Laurel Valley Pythian Sisters will install their officers next Tuesday evening, Jan. 8. Each member and officer is asked to be present and to bring a covered dish.

COLLEGE SET AT EVENING AFFAIR

Through six lively progressions at bridge Friday night, the attractive home of Mrs. James Hardwick Adams resounded with the enthusiastic voices of the collegiate crowd. This evening party at 8:30 o'clock was one of the final social affairs before the majority of them return to school.

When the final game was played and the scores compared, the hostess presented prizes to Miss Helen Hitler, Miss Genevieve Fohl and Miss Maxine Stevenson. Miss Florence Duntun assisted her sister, as did also Miss Gertrude Pigman.

The evening's guests were Miss Marion Hitler, Miss Helen Hitler, Miss Gladys Wentworth, Miss Lucile Rooney, Miss Catherine Groom, Miss Minnie Lyle, Miss Helen Schear, Miss Alice Ada May, Miss Ruth Holman, Miss Evelyn Adkins, Miss Allison Delaplaine, Miss Gertrude Pigman, Miss Florence Duntun, Miss Genevieve Fohl, Miss Maxine Stevenson and Mrs. Ralph Wallace.

THE YEAR'S GREATEST PICTURE SENSATION!

Fresh from their triumphs in "Love" and "Flesh and the Devil," the most sensational pair of screen lovers the world has known now appear in a production never equaled for the galaxy of star names concerned in it.

Michael Arlen, famous novelist, wrote the story directly for the screen. And then the greatest lovers in pictures, the finest cast, and a directing genius combined to translate it to the screen.

The result—a film sensation no one can afford to miss!

NEW YEAR'S GREETINGS TO THE BOYS AND GIRLS OF C. H. S.

"Happy New Year" is a common greeting which you have been hearing during the past few days. Does it carry a wealth of good wishes to you? Are you sending a wealth of meaning with your greeting?

"Happy New Year" will mean just what you make it mean. When you extend this greeting to your friends or they extend it to you, they and you are hoping that the year will bring you what you want and that you will want what is good for you.

We all have our own conception of happiness, yet this conception is as shifting as the sands of the sea. What we think would bring us the least happiness may later become our very ideal of happiness.

No matter what your conception of happiness may be, all of us have one common cause for happiness—a sense of accomplishment. We thrive on the praise and commendation of those with whom we associate. "Fine" or "well done" will give us a sense of happiness which will carry us through several days.

As I extend to you my wishes for a new year filled with happiness, I am trusting that it will be a year of accomplishment and work well done for this must bring happiness. May our mistakes and shiftlessness of the past be discarded for the accomplishments and ambitions of the future.

E. I. Gephart, Principal.

VACATION NOTES

Although the past few weeks were holidays, some of our high school students were very busy.

C. H. S. All State chorus went to Columbus, Thursday, Dec. 27, to take part in the All State meet. The morning and afternoon were spent in practicing. In the evening they sang with pupils from all parts of Ohio. They were in charge of Miss Wittich.

Friday, Dec. 21, C. H. S. boys' basketball team defeated Clarksburg by a score of 22-11. The same evening the girls' team were victors over Clarksburg girls by a score of 31-21. Dec. 28, C. H. S. boys toured to Greenfield. They played McClain's quintet, and came out on the short end of a 31-13 score. The girls were idle.

Girl Reserves and Hi-Y received thanks for the program and presents given to the Home and Hospital.

Several teachers from our city schools attended the meeting of the Teachers' Association at Columbus, Thursday and Friday, Dec. 27-28.

We have had several comments on the boys' new basketball suits. We get very tired however, telling the outsiders that the figure on the front of the shirt is a tiger's head instead of a lion's, a dog's or an elephant's.

When we returned to school we found a clean, warm school building awaiting us, we believe the janitor has resolved to keep the building warm during the remainder of the cold days. Let's help keep the building clean, too. If he can turn over a new leaf, so can we.

Mr. Eagleton received news that his mother's home and all its contents burned on New Year's Day.

More pupils have been absent since the Christmas vacation because of sickness, than during any other time of the school year.

700 VOICES HEARD IN ALL STATE CHORUS

Thursday, Dec. 27, Miss Wittich chaperoned 23 students of C. H. S. to the All State Chorus in Columbus. This was an all-day affair beginning with rehearsal at 10 o'clock in the morning and lasting until noon. The second rehearsal from 1:15 until 4:00 filled the afternoon schedule.

In the evening the chorus sang to an appreciative as well as a large audience. Miss Wittich herself said the singing was "wonderful." She also quoted the words of the director, Mr. Griffith Jones of Cleveland, "The All State Chorus of 1928 was the best chorus of high school students for its size that I have ever heard."

C. H. S. is proud to know that it was responsible for 23 of those voices and is glad to share in the honor and praise bestowed upon the chorus.

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION

The Old Year goes with the last hour of night. The new arrives before the dawn of day.

With slates wiped clean and conscience right, "All's well" the world seems to say.

I'm resolved to be kind, more considerate of others, Be charitable, and industrious. With patience that can't be tared by unruly brothers, Will make life assume a colorful hue.

Good deeds, better deeds, best deeds of all Will be my aim to perform each day.

Like a ray of sunshine thro the squall, Lighting a torch along the way.

Good resolutions that I solemnly swear To keep by uplifted hand. Led by the example of One who cares,

To make better and bigger this land.—H. K.

Miss Kuhlman: "What were Webster's last words?"
Joe Barnes: "Zymosis, zynotic, yozuzy."

GIRL RESERVE MEETING

Thursday afternoon the Girl Reserves met in the Algebra room. The motion that the members of the club pay five cents to the treasury of the club on the first and third Thursdays of the month and ten cents on the second and fourth Thursdays, the motion was carried. The plan was thought to be easier and better method of collecting the money for the luncheons and literature of the club.

During the meeting the president asked the new members to give money for the pins to the secretary, before the next meeting which will be held in the Domestic Science Department Thursday noon.

The topic for discussion, "A Perfect Body" was then discussed. Even though this topic was familiar to many of the girls, there were some new ideas and thoughts brought out in the questions and discussion of the sub-topics.

Miss Rains consented to be the advisor pro tem for Miss Watson was unable to be on hand.

Frances Metzgar, an alumna of C. H. S. and a charter member of the Girl Reserve Club, was a welcome visitor at the meeting.

TIGERS GROW UP

The boys' basketball team have all blossomed out in new suits. These suits each had a small tiger's head on it. These heads were mistaken for those of dogs, elephants and cats. But now the tigers have grown up. Heads of a larger size were placed in place of the small ones.

SCHOOL LIBRARY

For the accommodation of the freshmen and juniors, the Board of Education has purchased all books in the reading lists, necessary for those classes. The books will be kept in the school library, and are to be read at home, therefore it will not be necessary for the freshmen and junior English students to spend their evenings at the Public Library, preparing English.

These books are approved by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, of which Circleville High is a member.

The freshmen books are: Ivanhoe, Three Narrative Poems, As You Like It, and Short Stories. The junior books are: Tale of Two Cities, Three English Comedies, Macbeth, and Idylls of the King.

FRESHMEN MEETING

The freshmen class held a meeting in the study hall Jan. 3, 1929. The meeting was called to order by the vice-president, Robert Greenlee, due to the absence of the president. The secretary then read the minutes of the previous meeting.

The purpose of the meeting was to decide about having a party. Many motions were offered, but were found to be unsatisfactory. It was then mentioned that everyone pay up his dues and these dues plus the money in the bank would be enough for a party.

The vice-president then appointed a committee to prepare for the party. This committee consists of: Dudley Mills, chairman; Jean Fitzpatrick, Waldo Hilyard and Dorothy L. Glick. The vice-president asked for a motion to adjourn. This motion was offered and seconded.

So across the darkening sky God sent his albe reaper

With a dark and glistening scythe.

Go bring to me the choicest crops

And a sample of the bad

That I may know what is best

Or what the old world had.

Go quick and down that waving blade

That's swings so proudly there

He's far above the other groups

And playing solitaire.

Down from on high swept the reaper

To the garden of the world

And took back to the keeper

The blade as a banner unfurled.—H. K.

RED AND BLACK SPARKS.

Mr. Guthrie—Romeo, what have you been doing all morning?

Romeo—"Nuthin'."

Mr. Guthrie—Jaggy, what have you been doing?

Davis—Helpin' Romeo.

Miss Kuhlman—We'll begin the French Revolution next week. All come prepared.

Mr. Fetherlin—Oscar Reynolds, will you please run up the blind?

Oscar—Well, I'm not much of an athlete, but I'll try it once.

Thomas White—The X Y Z affairs was where three men sent over to France.

Miss Kuhlman—Well, what were they sent for?

Thomas—To learn their A B C's.

Mr. Watts—Name a great universal time saver.

Jincy Mader—Love at first sight.

Bugs, the motor cop (to Emil Ross)—So you saw the accident? What was the number of the car that knocked the man down?

Emil—I'm afraid I've forgotten it; but I remember noticing that if it were multiplied by 50, the cubic root of the product would be equal to the sum of the digits reversed.

MISSIONARY MEETING AT U. B. CHURCH

The January meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the U. B. church met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mary Millions, on E. Mound-st. She was the leader for the day and the subject of the devotion period was "That I May Know Him, the Master Teacher." This consisted of Bible texts read responsively and prayer by Mrs. Abbie Gusman. Mrs. Maude Peters had charge of the mission book chapter, and gave a most interesting talk upon "Education Among the Women and Girls of Africa." From out of the down-trodden slave women of Africa are emerging slowly but surely an intelligent, ambitious womanhood and girlhood who desire above all things to belong to that tribe of God of which the missionaries teach and to which they themselves belong. She pictured very plainly conditions as they really are in Africa and the wonderful good the missionaries are doing in the uplift of these people.

Mrs. Myrtle Trimmer read a leaflet, "The Marriage School" and told the true story of Berta, an African girl, the graduate of this school.

A pretty solo, "He Knows the Way" was sung by Mrs. Fannie Greeno.

The other side of the education that of the men of Africa was presented by Mrs. Bessie Long, "Albert Academy." Mrs. Barton Lukens also read a leaflet, "The Lillian Harford School for Girls." After the wonder box questions, a short business session followed in charge of the Vice-president Mrs. Nan Kirkpatrick. During the social hour delicious home made candy was served by the hostess.

TO ENTERTAIN LADIES AIDE

Mrs. Edward Kegg will entertain the Ladies Aid of Commercial Point M. E. church on Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 9. Everybody welcome.

LOCAL TRIO WILL SING AT INSTITUTE

At the Farmers' institute to be held Friday and Saturday Jan. 18th and 19th, in the Community house in Thrlton a most interesting program has been arranged.

KNOT COMFORT AT BIBLE CLASS MEETING

The knotting of a comfort for the Circleville Benevolent society occupied most of the afternoon Friday when the members of the Woman's Bible class met at the home of Mrs. Charles Naumann on S. Washington-st for their regular monthly meeting. A business session was conducted first

"SUBMARINE" Will be here Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Don't fail to see "Submarine."
